For some time the police have suspected Schouton, on account of his being seen in the streets at unseemly hours. Policeman Smith was detailed in citiers are frees to watch him. Last night he took up his station near Schouton's house on Broadway and saw him come out at a late hour. He went in the direction of Port Richmond. The policeman kept track of him until a few minutes before he set fire to the Windmill barn.

Policeman Smith was looking for Schouton when the fiames burst from the Windmill barn.
